ILO GREEN WEEK

Geneva, Switzerland

3-7 June 2019

Celebrating the centenary of the ILO, the Green Week features exhibitions, dialogues with practitioners, innovators, and strategic partners and a presentation of programmes and initiatives of the ILO in the field of environmental sustainability.

Exhibition - Greening with jobs: The ILO in Action

In collaboration with DCOMM, this exhibition takes place at the headquarters' colonnades throughout the week and will feature pictures and images of ILO's engagement in the area of sustainability. The exhibition will also present achievements in greening development cooperation projects in various areas.

Greening with Jobs - Discussions with ILO Strategic Partners

Global challenges require globally coordinated responses. The ILO actively promotes social justice and decent work in a number of joint programmes and initiatives intended to sum up specialized expertise to tackle pressing environmental, social and economic issues. This series of discussions brings ILO strategic partners to present and debate areas of collaboration.

Meet the Green Entrepreneurs

Have you ever thought about how ideas become successful innovative businesses that are not only financially viable but also promote sustainable development? This series of discussions will put you face-to-face with green entrepreneurs who will share their experience, lessons learnt and their aspirations to contribute to a greener future.

World Environment Day 2019

This day is dedicated to raising awareness among ILO staff to help them gain a sense of their individual environmental footprint and what they can do about it.
